Request for Information on Matters of Local History

This morning's mail brought me an information request from an old correspondent friend.

The friend is John Heuston, former travel writer for the old State Publicity & Parks Commission, but now information coordinator in Arkansas Power & Light Co.'s public relations department.

Mr. Heuston's request is for authentic information on Civil War events and location of pioneer landmarks in our area. His letter follows, and anyone with information on the subject matters may reply to Mr. Heuston at Public Relations Dept., A.P. & L. Co., 9th & Louisiana Sts., Little Rock, Ark. 72203. Please do not telephone either Mr. Heuston or The Star. Accuracy being the essence of historical matter, all submissions must be in writing with typed scripts preferred.

Here is Mr. Heuston's letter:

Editor The Star: I haven't corresponded with you since my days as travel writer for the old Publicity and Parks Commission, but I trust you are breezing along as per usual. I'm information coordinator in AP&L's PR department and don't get to travel as much as I used to.

I've been interested in the Civil War in Arkansas for several years and am especially interested in Steel's route to Camden at the head of the Union troops and his subsequent retreat to Little Rock. The route of the Old Military Road from Jenkins Ferry to Little Rock is fairly well known, but no person I know can say for sure where the military road went by the Hope area to prairie D'Anne, etc.

Do you know, or know anybody who knows, where the battle of Prairie D'Anne actually took place? I understand that Civil War buffs have been unable to pinpoint it exactly. Also, do you know where the old Elkins Ferry was on the Little Missouri River? I understand Hope was built on the site of Prairie Rohan.

Any help you could give me would be appreciated. One of my hobbies is tracing out these old military roads and historic sites. If you don't have any information of this type, do you know any Civil War students in the area who might?

Thanks, again, for your consideration. Best regards always,
JOHN HEUSTON

Pressure on for Welfare Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen under pressure to speed action on President Nixon's long-stalled welfare reform-Social Security legislation complain they have not been given the proposals in workable form.

The House Ways and Means Committee started its renewed consideration of the legislation Tuesday, hearing Secretary Elliot L. Richardson and other Health, Education and Welfare officials in closed session.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said afterward many essential specifics were lacking in Richardson's presentation. "I think we've lost about a week," he said. Earlier he had expressed hope the committee could get a bill to the House floor by the end of February.

Richardson asked for approval of Nixon's family assistance plan, with stiffer restrictions for recipients refusing work.

On Social Security, he recommended a 6 per cent benefit increase instead of the 10 per cent advocated by Mills and others, but with provision for future automatic cost-of-living increases. Payroll taxes would be increased for those earning more than $7,800.

The secretary also advocated a number of provisions designed to hold down the cost of medicare and Medicaid.

The congressman said he intends to pursue the matter in detail with further questioning of HEW officials, probably next week.

AT THE CENTER of the building controversy of U.S. personnel in Cambodia, Defense Secretary Melvin Laird, left, has said the Cambodians understand American troops "will not be introduced" while Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, suggested Communist successes might require U.S. reaction.

Senate Committee Asks for Information on Operation Near Laos

Planes Bomb Cong Convoys Inside Laos

Bulletin

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces have begun a new drive in Cambodia with full U.S. air support to crush North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps and sanctuaries, it was disclosed tonight.

South Vietnamese officials said the United States is providing helicopter gunships, medical evacuation helicopters and logistics support to the 10,000 Saigon troops.

There are no U.S. ground troops taking part in the operation, the officials added.

The South Vietnamese forces include 2,500 fresh troops thrown into the drive by Lt. Gen. Do Cao Tri, commander of the 3rd military region in the southern half of South Vietnam. The region shares 231 miles of border with Cambodia. The other 7,500 troops already were at bases inside Cambodia.

SAIGON (AP) — Allied headquarters today reported stepped-up fighting in the northern provinces of South Vietnam for the third day in a row, while just across the border in southern Laos, hundreds of American planes struck at North Vietnamese supply convoys and dumps in the 117th day of the most sustained bombing campaign of the war.

Seven ground fights were reported in the northern quadrant, and the U.S. Command reported 75 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed by U.S. and South.

Bumpers Going Before Legislature With Plan to Increase Revenues

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Tuesday he likely would go before the legislature Thursday to present his plans for raising additional revenue, but he refused to reveal what he will ask of the General Assembly.

Bumpers also said his address to the joint session of the legislature would deal with "new programs," including a construction program for the state. He would not elaborate.

The governor declined repeatedly at a news conference to indicate what revenue measures he would request. He said he wanted the legislators to get the first word on them.

He said, however, that tax priorities that he outlined during last year's campaign remained the same, although he said he had ruled out a "couple of things" he had discussed then because he had found them to be inequitable.

During the campaign, Bumpers talked about the possibility of repealing some tax exemp-

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Nixon consulting key national-security advisers, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has asked for information about a rumored U.S.-South Vietnamese operation near the Laotian border.

Nixon held an unannounced meeting with some of his highest advisers late Tuesday, and administration spokesmen refused to discuss military plans except to repeat assurances no U.S. troops have crossed into Laos and none will.

There was no indication any decision was reached in Nixon's meeting with Secretary of State William P. Rogers; Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird; Adm. Thomas Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; foreign-policy adviser Henry Kissinger, and Richard Helms, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The Washington Post reported today 25,000 South Vietnamese ground troops were massed near the Laotian border Tuesday, "preparing to raid Vietnamese Communist bases and supply lines in Laos with U.S. air support."

"Operating with them, U.S. sources unofficially acknowledged, is a screening force of about 9,000 American troops, who are under instructions to halt at the Laotian border when cross-border operations begin," the newspaper reported.

Rogers insisted last Friday that unlimited U.S. airpower will be available anywhere in Indochina to protect GIs withdrawing from South Vietnam. He refused at that time to discuss whether the assurance was related to any planned offensive.

Laos Troops Routed by the Enemy

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — North Vietnamese troops early today routed neutralist Laotian troops from Muong Soui, northwest of the Plain of Jars, and overran the town, the Defense Ministry announced.

A spokesman said the North Vietnamese used about five tanks to drive out the neutralist battalion defending the town 108 miles north of Vientiane.

He said the ministry had lost radio contact with the defenders and had no casualty report.

The spokesman said the military situation in northern Laos is worsening, with three Communist battalions surrounding Luang Prabang, the royal capital 134 miles north of Vientiane, and with clashes reported around Ban Na, 90 miles northeast of Vientiane.

The Defense Ministry said Monday that the North Vietnamese and their allies of the Communist Pathet Lao were building up for an offensive in northern Laos. A spokesman said one target might be Long Cheng, southwest of the Plain of Jars, a headquarters for operations of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The Pathet Lao radio claimed today that Thailand had sent a special battalion into the Bolovens Plateau of southern Laos to reinforce two other Thai battalions which the broadcast said had been operating there.

Light Rain to Continue in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light rain or drizzle is expected to continue intermittently in Arkansas through tonight.

The forecast calls for rising temperatures today, continuing through Thursday.

Ice was reported on highways in several areas of the state this morning and travelers warnings were issued.

Highs Tuesday ranged from 30 at Harrison to 39 at Texarkana. Highs today were forecast in the upper 40s and 50s. Highs Thursday should be in the 50s and 60s.

Lows tonight are forecast in the upper 30s and 40s. Overnight lows include Fayetteville 34, Harrison 30, Jonesboro 31, Pine Bluff 36, Texarkana 39, El Dorado 38, Memphis 34 and Fort Smith 36.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. include a trace at Harrison and Fort Smith, .03 at El Dorado, .07 at Jonesboro, Pine Bluff and Memphis and .10 at Texarkana.

Nixon Seeks Way to Deal With Strikes

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pointing to the threat of a nationwide rail strike in the near future, President Nixon resubmitted to Congress today his 1970 plan to deal with threatened national emergency labor disputes in the rail, airline, maritime, long-shore and trucking industries.

A controversial feature of the proposal would open the way to an imposed settlement should industry and employ negotiators reach an impasse that could lead to a walkout endangering the national health or safety.

Called a "final offer selection" plan, organized labor regards it as a form of compulsory arbitration and opposes it strongly.

Nixon first proposed the legislative package, called the Emergency Public Protection Bill, last Feb. 27. Congress did not even hold hearings on the proposal.

In his latest message, Nixon wrote:

"The legislation I propose today would establish a framework for settling emergency transportation disputes in a reasonable and orderly fashion, fair to parties and without the shattering impact on the public of a transportation shut down. I urge that this time we not wait for the next emergency, but rather join together in acting

Many Feared Dead in Ga. Plant Blast

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — A blast and fire ripped through a Thiokol Chemical Co. munitions factory today and a number of persons were killed or injured.

Private planes and helicopters were pressed into service to fly survivors to hospitals. One pilot estimated that about 30 people were "blown to bits" but there was no way to confirm this immediately.

Survivors at the plant estimated about 100 were injured.

Tom Buffington, a company official, said "There are some dead and many people are injured." He declined to release figures.

W.E. Wade, Civil Defense director at Brunswick, said planes were being used to transport the injured because of distance and bad roads. The plant is about 25 miles south of here.

A survivor, not identified, said flames in the building blew up. He said he was in another building and its roof caved in.

Buffington confirmed that the building contained explosives but would not identify the type. One source said they were trip flares for use in Vietnam.

Highway Department to New Problem Rebuild, Widen South Main St. to 44 Feet

AP News Digest

The Arkansas Highway Department is completing plans for rebuilding South Main Street. District Engineer, John Tallant, says they hope to have the work under contract by the 1st of July.

Plans are to construct a street 44 feet wide from 23rd Street to 3rd Street (Highway 67). The work will include the rebuilding of storm sewers along South Main Street, which will alleviate the flooding conditions that now occur with every heavy rain. The highway department will rebuild all the sidewalks through the area and remove the trees from the right-of-way.

Along with the work of the highway department, the City of Hope will rebuild all of the sanitary sewers on South Main. Most all the sewer lines throughout the area are in bad shape and residents have experienced a lot of trouble from the sewer lines stopping up and backing sewerage into their property. Most all the old water mains will be replaced with new cast iron pipe, located back of the curb. The electric department and telephone company will have to reset the utility poles to provide for the additional width.

The 44 foot width will allow room for parallel parking on each side of the street and still provide adequate room for traffic. The improvement to the storm sewers and sanitary sewers will remedy conditions that have been nagging the residents of South Main for a good many years and will provide an attractive entrance into the city. The Highway Department says that, except in a few instances, the existing right-of-way is wide enough to build the street as it is planned. Additional room will be needed at some of the street intersections to provide a better turning radius into the street and about 10 feet of additional right-of-way will be needed for a distance of about 4 blocks. The City of Hope will have to change out all the utility lines and furnish any additional right-of-way.

Other than this, total cost will be borne by the State Highway Department. This is a job that the highway department has been planning for several years.

Hope Woman Dies From Exposure

ASHDOWN—Exposure to the cold waters of Lake Millwood claimed the life of Louise Pennington, 28, of Hope, late Monday, but three fishing companions escaped and are being treated in Little River Memorial Hospital in Ashdown.

Herman Frieson, 40, his wife, Elsie, 36, of 1108 North Graham, and Robert Fellers, 35, also listed from Hope, are in satisfactory condition after treatment for shock, exposure and water ingestion, in the Ashdown hospital.

The group rented a 14-foot fishing boat from Henry L. (Cotton) Surber, 20, of Ashdown, at Milwee Boat Dock about 11 a.m. Monday. When they failed to return by 6:30 p.m. Surber started out in search for them.

Surber found them clinging to their capsized boat in about 10 feet of water in the middle of the lake. He got them in his 15 foot runabout after some doing as three of them weighed about 200 pounds and the fourth about 170. They were unable to help themselves. The victims were able to tell Surber they had been in the water, some 43 degrees, about three hours.

Louise Pennington was pronounced dead when they arrived at the dock by Justice of the Peace Bunn Fawcett of Ashdown. The three survivors were taken to the Ashdown hospital.

There was no indication in the air-to-ground conversation with the astronauts that anything was amiss as they settled down for the sleep period.

They were awakened shortly after they dozed off to correct a valve setting when Mission Control noted an excess overboard flow of oxygen.

Earlier they had televised a picture of the moon, a shimmering half crescent that loomed larger and larger as earth shrank in the distance.

Heart of Year Award to Albert WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Carl B. Albert, the new Speaker of the House, has received the American Heart Association's "Heart of the Year" award.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A battery problem developed in the Apollo 14 lunar landing vehicle today just hours before the astronauts were to orbit the moon.

Apollo 14 had swept into the grasp of lunar gravity and sped toward a Thursday morning orbit.

There was no immediate indication of the severity of the problem or whether it could block an attempt at a moon landing Friday.

No official announcement was made, but sources reported the difficulty was with one of two batteries in the ascent stage of the lunar module the astronauts call Antares.

The word came as astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr., Edgar D. Mitchell and Stuart A. Roosa started a nine-hour sleep period, resting for the grueling days ahead in the vicinity of the moon.

Shepard and Mitchell earlier today had entered the lunar ship through a connecting tunnel, and after a two and one-half hour inspection Shepard pronounced it "immaculate."

The sources said that during the lunar module check Shepard and Mitchell had tested the batteries and that ground indications showed one registering 37.1 volts and the other 37. They are supposed to have the same reading.

Mission Control officials reported they were studying the possible problem. There was a possibility it was only a faulty reading.

There are two batteries in the ascent stage of the lunar module, the cabin section that is designed to lift the astronauts off the moon and fly to a rendezvous with the orbiting command module. The descent, or landing stage, is left on the moon.

If one of the two ascent batteries failed, the remaining battery would provide sufficient power to accomplish a safe takeoff and rendezvous and docking with the command ship. However, it is doubtful if Mission Control center would commit Shepard and Mitchell to a landing if only one of the batteries was functioning.

There was no indication in the air-to-ground conversation with the astronauts that anything was amiss as they settled down for the sleep period.

They were awakened shortly after they dozed off to correct a valve setting when Mission Control noted an excess overboard flow of oxygen.

Earlier they had televised a picture of the moon, a shimmering half crescent that loomed larger and larger as earth shrank in the distance.

FPC Approves Arkla's Gas Line Proposal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The staff of the Federal Power Commission has recommended that the commission conditionally approve the application of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. to construct a 300-mile pipeline into the Anadarko Basin of Oklahoma and Texas.

Kenneth E. Richardson, FPC staff counsel, said in a brief filed with the FPC that the pipeline is required "by the public convenience and necessity" and offers the best assurance of supplying natural gas at the lowest reasonable price to Arkla's consumers.

The brief suggested that the commission approve the application because of gas supply shortages and the lack of alternate plans.

"There is doubt, in fact, whether Arkla could obtain much gas in the Anadarko Basin without a pipeline into the area, because of the existing competition between pipelines already present there and be-

Gov. to Be Cautious on Reorganizing

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers pledges to move cautiously in carrying out a major reorganization of state government authorized in the administration bill that cleared the legislature Tuesday.

Bumpers told a news conference late Tuesday afternoon that he hoped the reorganization, which he had considered the most vital part of his legislative program, would be "basically ready" by the start of the new fiscal year July 1.

Final legislative action on the measure came on House agreement Tuesday to 11 Senate amendments. The bill was then transmitted to Bumpers for his signature. The House previously had passed the plan 92-4 and the Senate had approved 32-3 after adding the amendments.

With the bill out of the way, Bumpers now plans to address a joint session of the legislature, probably Thursday, to disclose what he will do on taxes. He had said he would wait until after the reorganization measure is disposed of before telling his plans.

In other legislative action Tuesday, the Senate approved 27-1 and sent to Bumpers a bill that would make it a felony to vote in the preferential primary of one political party and then cast a ballot in the runoff primary of another party.

The Senate also approved its version of an administration bill designed to encourage medical practice in rural areas. The bill would amend existing law to raise from $1,600 to $5,000 a year the amount of scholarship aid available to medical students.

The Senate amendments to the reorganization bill were approved within a 15-minute period without debate. Ten of the amendments, either initiated or adopted by the administration, made minor shifts in status of agencies covered by the plan.

The other amendment, sponsored by Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway and agreed to by Bumpers, would require Senate confirmation of most appointees which the Senate could reject under existing law.

After the House vote on the changes, Rep. W. F. Foster Sr. of England, floor manager of the legislation, told his colleagues: "We've given the quarterback the football and I know he will not fumble."

The bill will merge more than 60 of the state's 180 agencies, boards and commissions into 13 principal departments. The directors of the 13 departments will serve in a gubernatorial cabinet along with the directors of the state Highway and Game and Fish Commissions.

Bumpers sought the legislation to bring more efficiency to state government, to stop "empire building" and to make government more responsive. Supporters also said the reorganization would give a governor authority equal to his responsibility.

All directors of the principal departments, except the head of the Department of Correction, will serve at the pleasure of the governor.

There had been objections that the bill gave the governor too much power. Legislators who had reservations about the authority the plan gave the governor nevertheless supported it out of what they said was their trust that Bumpers would now abuse the new power.

Bumpers told newsmen that the authority given the governor was a "negative" power that did not "lend itself to abuse." He said that, for instance, nine of the heads of the principal departments would require Senate confirmation.

Rep. Bennie Ryburn of Monticello voted against all 10 administration amendments and for the Jones amendment. Rep. Bill Stancil of Fort Smith voted against one amendment.

"It's going to come back to haunt us," Ryburn told reporters.

The Senate approved and sent to the governor bills to:

—Provide for retirement after 20 years of service for State Police officers.

—Enable a motorist to retain his driver's license by pleading guilty or "no contest" to drunken driving charges after having refused to take a breath test to determine his alcoholic content.

The Senate passed and sent

Oil Nations May Decree Price Hike

By DENNIS NEEDLE
Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN (AP) — Representatives of 10 oil producing nations met today following collapse of price negotiations with the major Western oil companies. Conference sources said the meeting would probably recommend that the producers follow Venezuela's lead and adopt legislation decreeing the price rises the companies have refused to concede.

A shutdown of oil supplies for Western Europe would be resorted to only if the companies refused to comply with new payment schedules promulgated under the legislation, the sources predicted.

Venezuela recently adopted a bill providing for an increase of taxes on oil company income to 60 per cent, an increase of royalties to 16 2-3 per cent and the authority for unilateral increases of base prices on which the taxes and royalties are figured.

The meeting today brought together representatives of the 10 nations of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries: Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Abu Dhabi, Qatar, Libya, Algeria, Venezuela and Indonesia. They supply almost all of the oil used by Western Europe and Japan.

The OPEC conference was called to hear a report on the breakdown Tuesday night of price negotiations between 22 international oil companies and the six producing nations of the Persian Gulf.

Similar negotiations with Libya failed earlier.

Venezuelan Oil Minister Hugo Perez Salia said that while the oil nations would be firm, they also would be "reasonable and conscious of our responsibilities." He said he was sure the conference would demonstrate their "unshakable unity and determination."

Jamshid Amuzegar, Iran's finance minister, told a news conference the breakdown in the price talks was the fault of the oil companies. Lord Strathallmond of British Petroleum, who led the company team, said progress was being made "but time was against us."

The companies made a new offer Tuesday, reportedly bettering the 20 cents a barrel increase in base price which the Persian Gulf States rejected on Monday.

upon it now."

Arguing for speedy consideration, Nixon said, "If emphasis is necessary, we need only remember that barely two months ago the nation was brought to the brink of a crippling railroad shutdown, the strike being averted only by legislation passed after a walk out had actually begun." He went on:

"That legislation, we should also remember, settled little; it merely postponed the strike deadline. A few weeks from now another railroad strike over the same issues which precipitated the last one is a distinct possibility."

The Nixon bill would abolish emergency strike provisions of the railroad labor act, which apply only to rail and airline disputes, and subject all transportation industries to the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

In the case of national emergency disputes in transportation, Nixon also seeks authority to extend the present 80-day "cooling off period" permitted under Taft-Hartley, for as long as 30 additional days.

Bill Concerns Gillham Dam Dispute

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. George Davis of Horatio introduced a resolution in the Arkansas House Tuesday asking U.S. District Judge G. Thomas Eisele to be guided by the will of Congress in Eisele's hearing of a suit seeking to halt construction of the Gillham Dam on the Cossatot River.

Davis' resolution said Congress was the appropriate body to establish public policy of the nation and that it was incumbent upon federal courts to carry out policies as they are determined by Congress.

The resolution said courts should limit their jurisdiction to the settling of claims of individuals whose property is taken for the dam and the reservoir to be created by the dam.

A group has filed suit in federal court seeking an injunction against construction of the dam on grounds that the structure would harm the ecology of the area.

Will Discuss Hunger Battle in Hempstead

First Presbyterian Church will hear Miss Alice R. Cummings, public consultant for the Arkansas Welfare Department, discuss "The Hunger Battle in Hempstead County."

She will talk at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Church's Fellowship Hall. This is one of a series of programs on the subject, "Plans for Combating Hunger."

As the world faces the threat of population exceeding food supply, the programs will have dealt with such issues as population explosion, the food industry production efforts and the prevalence of hunger and what to do about it.

Miss Cummings will present facts and figures on hunger in this area and present efforts to deal with the situation.

Rocket to Cause Dust Satellites

By RICHARD BEENE
Associated Press Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Millions of tiny moon dust satellites will race into lunar orbit Thursday, freed from the parent body by the crash of Apollo 14's spent rocket stage.

Some of these sand-like particles will be hurled as fast as a mile per second into orbits as high as 60 miles, a scientist says.

The Apollo 14 astronauts will be in lunar orbit by the time their S4B rocket stage slams into the moon, but they won't be able to see the crash or the little satellites.

Dr. Gary Latham, of the Lamont-Doherty Geological Laboratory in New York, said the S4B will dig a crater more than 30 feet deep and 150 to 200 feet wide at the top.

Eventually, he said, the dust satellites will fall back to the moon.

The S4B, falling about a mile and a half a second, is expected to crash early Thursday about 114 miles south-southeast of the Apollo 12 landing site in the Ocean of Storms, Latham said.

Engagement Announced

MISS PATRICIA FRANCES BRADFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Bradford of Ozan announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Frances, to Richard William Brandenburg, son of Col. and Mrs. Howard Brandenburg, of Lynchburg, Virginia, formerly of Russellville, Arkansas.

Miss Bradford is a Sophomore at Arkansas Polytechnic College, Russellville.

Mr. Brandenburg is a graduate of Arkansas Polytechnic College and is now attending Officer's Training School, Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

The wedding will be an event of April 10, in the Wesley Chapel on the campus of Arkansas Polytechnic College, Russellville.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When animation is used in a television program outside the Saturday morning children's hours, it often is designed to convey some great truth.

So it was with "The Point," a 90-minute cartoon fable which was ABC's "Movie of the Week" Tuesday night. The story of little Oblio made clear the message at the outset: He was a sweet, well-intentioned boy with the misfortune to be born with a round head in a land where points-on buildings and atop human heads—were the norm. As a consequence, Oblio suffered all sorts of indignities and perils including being banished to the Pointless Forest. However, he was so eager to do right that he came through unscathed and returned home in triumph.

This was done in rather primitive drawings while the story line was punched up by some forgettable music and a narration by Dustin Hoffman.

It was a decided departure for the anthology series. While the moral was trite and obvious, the program was not without interest although it rambled along about an hour more than was needed.

The intrepid George Plimpton, who seems ready to try anything once, came along on ABC next with an hour reporting his adventures as a performer in a circus. High point was his debut as a trapeze performer. The tall man, looking tense and awkward, climbed high on the small platform, grabbed the trapeze bar and swung into space. He was caught by his partner but when launched on his return trip, his hand slipped and he landed in the net below.

It was anticlimactic when he made his swing successfully later after the audience had left the tent.

Plimpton's diffident manner and Eastern-prep-school accent make him a rather remote figure in situations where the viewer must identify closely.

CBS's "60 Minutes" busily covered some familiar ground. One of its main features was a recollection of Spiro T. Agnew's early days in Baltimore. A number of people who knew him when remember young Ted as a witty, fun-loving fellow who worked hard and made a practice of learning one new word a day.

Supersonic Issue Back in Congress

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Congress renews the fight over funding the supersonic transport plane, the floor manager for the Nixon administration project, likely will be Robert C. Byrd, the Senate's No. 2 Democrat.

The West Virginian, who topped Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts to become party whip last month, is the new chairman of the transportation subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee, the panel that considers SST funds.

Logically, this new assignment would throw Byrd, a supporter of the project, the job of trying to push the SST through the Senate. This means that in the first major battle since becoming whip, Byrd probably will find himself opposing most of his fellow Democrats, including Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

Under a compromise permitting adjournment of the 91st Congress only a day before its legal expiration, the House and Senate will have to consider next month a new appropriations bill financing the Department of Transportation, including the faster-than-sound plane, from March 30 to June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

Byrd backed $290 million for the SST last year, when it was approved by the House and defeated in the Senate, and is expected to support the project again.

While appointment to the transportation subcommittee could be a boost for the administration, the White House may see some changes in the way the Appropriations defense subcommittee is run.

Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of Appropriations, is taking over the defense panel long headed by the late Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Russell was a strong defender of Pentagon programs; Ellender is a long-time critic of defense waste. He opposed the Safeguard antiballistic-missile system and favors sharp reduction of U.S. troop strength in Europe, likely to be a major issue this year.

To take the defense spot, Ellender is giving up chairmanship of the public works subcommittee to John C. Stennis, D-Miss.

Gale McGee, D-Wyo., is succeeding retired Spessard Holland, D-Fla., as chairman of the agriculture subcommittee. McGee's old post of foreign aid subcommittee chief will go to William Proxmire, D-Wis. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, is new chairman of the District of Columbia subcommittee.

Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., is taking over the Treasury-Post Office subcommittee, and Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., is new chairman of the subcommittee handling funds for Congress itself.

Holdover Appropriations subcommittee chairmen include John L. McClellan, D-Ark., state-justice-commerce; Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., labor-health, education and welfare; John O. Pastore, D-R.I., independent offices including housing and space; Alan Bible, D-Nev., interior, and Mansfield, military construction.

The greatest advantage the Jacoby Transfer bid gives its users is having the no-trump pass as declarer so that the lead comes up to it and not through it.

North had only 15 high-card points for his no-trump opener, but his three 10s and two nines gave him the score so much potential that he was justified in his bid.

South had full values plus a lot of extra for his three-heart response although his jump to the slam had to be an overbid. North might have 17 high-card points and only the queen and jack of spades.

The slam collapsed with the opening lead. South had to try the spade finesse and after it lost the ace of clubs was a sure setting trick.

South was bitter about his partner's 15-point no-trump, the losing spade finesse and the fact that a spade was led against him.

Let's see what would happen if South had used the Jacoby Transfer we recommend in JACOBY MODERN. He would have responded two diamonds to show at least five hearts and a hand of any strength. North would go to two hearts.

South might settle for game, but he would probably temporize with a three-diamond call. This bid of a new suit is a game force and usually suggests a slam. North might look at his 15 points and make a minimum rebid in hearts but he might decide he had just the right fit and bid three spades to show that ace and invite a slam.

After that, South could go to six hearts which is a cinch as long as North is declarer, since a spade lead can't hurt him.

READERS ANSWER THE MAIL

Dear Helen:

It's a little late for comment about Halloween, but I thought you'd like to know that you and the fellow who doubted the authenticity of all the atrocity stories were right: A study of police investigators' files shows that almost two-thirds of such incidents turn out to be hoaxes, exaggerations, or cover-ups.

While there are a few depraved people who put razor blades in Halloween apples and lace candy with soap, there are also spiteful kids who even the score with "mean" neighbors by planting broken glass in their gifts of popcorn balls.

Two much publicized case of the boy who died "after he ate trick or treat candy filled with heroin" was a phony — but the follow-up story didn't get much play. It turns out the five-year-old got a heroin capsule at his uncle's house by accident. Later a member of his family confessed to having "salted" Halloween candy to protect the guilty.

The facts, according to detectives in several large cities are:

No known serious injuries have occurred from booby-trapped treats.

Only one person has ever admitted to booby-trapping Halloween treats, and she was later placed in a mental institution. Hers was the only known arrest.

Horror stories about poisoned goodies and pins in fruit are widely publicized and discussed. The follow-up of truth after thorough investigation, seldom makes big headlines, if any.

Thus parents become so frightened that they accompany their kids on the rounds and forbid travelling out of their neighborhood (a good thing, but sad it must be brought about through fear).

Actually last October 31 was one of the quietest Halloween's in recent years, says a Los Angeles police department spokesman. It may be even quieter next year, for scare stories seldom die. — ALLEN

Dear Helen:

You can't imagine how thrilled we've been by the response of your wonderful readers to our drive to collect Betty Crocker coupons for life-saving devices in our Regional Dialysis Center. We've received coupons from all over the United States, and may we thank via your column the vast number of HHU fans who responded so generously?

Helen, as you've probably heard, General Mills has announced it will discontinue redeeming Betty Crocker coupons for life-saving devices because of accusations that the firm was trading on human misery. Unfortunately most of the newspaper items on this policy change did not mention that already-started projects which were approved by the company prior to December 1, 1970, can redeem coupons until May 31, 1971. There is still time for us and other non-profit, registered groups to collect the necessary amount for our goal. If we don't, the company will give the institution we designate credits for life-saving equipment to be applied toward a purchase.

Would you please mention the May 31 deadline in your column, so that many hospitals and centers throughout the country may still receive assistance in buying these vitally needed machines? — E.H. SADDLE RIVER REFORMED CHURCH, 500 East Saddle River Road, Upper Saddle River, New Jersey, 07458.

Dear E.:

I'll be glad to mention your project, and also those of The Candy Strippers at Sutter Memorial Hospital, Sacramento, California, and a group at Roseville Hospital, Roseville, Calif. These are among the many organizations who have registered with General Mills to collect Betty Crocker coupons for kidney machines and other life-saving equipment.

Keep those coupons pouring in until May 31, 1971, you collectors out there!

Read on:

Dear Helen:

About the company decision to discontinue redeeming Betty Crocker coupons for life-saving hospital equipment: Isn't it a shame that a company like General Mills will overlook the thousands of grateful "thank you's" and cave in to a very few charges that it is "profiteering from misfortune"? Would a barrage of letters asking for reconsideration of this policy change help keep our kidney machine projects going? — W.Z. Dear W.:

Might could. Why not try? — H.

Top Rated Marquette Wins No. 29

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Al McGuire, coach of Marquette's top-ranked college basketball team, likened his unbeaten squad to a bunch of bricklayers today.

Marquette fell on Wisconsin like a bunch of bricks 89-75 Tuesday night for the Warriors' 29th straight victory and a season mark of 17-0.

"We're like bricklayers, we just want to build a better house," McGuire commented. "We got a couple of quick turns early in the game and they never recovered."

Led by Gary Brell's 30 points the Warriors took an 8-0 lead and widened it to 39 points at 74-35 in the second half before the Badgers reduced the final margin.

"They're the best team we've played in three years," said John Powless, Wisconsin coach. "They should definitely be No. 1. They have more poise and they are quicker than when we lost to them by three points last December."

The score of that game in the Milwaukee Classic was 72-69. Onrushing Michigan, 20th-ranked in this week's Associated Press poll, won its 11th of its last 12 games by humbling Purdue 85-69. The Wolverines took over the lead in the Big Ten at 5-0 as Iowa upset 15th-ranked Illinois 92-84.

Michigan pulled away from Purdue in the second half led by sophomore Henry Wilmore who scored 23 points, 15 of them after the intermission.

Fred Brown threw in a career high of 36 points to bring Iowa from behind a 10-point deficit in the Hawkeyes' victory over the Illini.

Howard Porter scored 31 points to lead 17th ranked Villanova over St. John's of New York 99-82. The victory gave Jack Kraft, coach of the Wildcats, his 200th career triumph.

Gene Phillips tossed in 45 points for his career high in leading Southern Methodist over Texas A&M 89-83 in overtime. Texas took Rice 84-68, Texas Tech downed Baylor 90-76 and Texas Christian shaded Arkansas 89-87 in other SWC games.

Dayton beat Eastern Kentucky 110-86, Centenary tripped Oklahoma City 63-55, Drake overcame DePaul 93-80, Dartmouth defeated Connecticut 69-62, Massachusetts edged Holy Cross 60-58 and Cincinnati conquered Richmond 78-71.

LSU-New Orleans, No. 1 in the AP college division poll, made it

Battle of the Bayou Opening Up

The Battle of the Bayou is opening up.

LSU-New Orleans, which vaulted over Louisiana Tech and Southwestern Louisiana to claim the top spot in The Associated Press College Division basketball poll a week ago, tightened its grip on the penthouse berth in Tuesday's ballot.

The Privateers, whipping North Carolina-Charlotte 92-74, Virginia Commonwealth 99-96 and UC Irvine 104-79, boosted their perfect record to 16-0 and garnered 11 of the 17 first-place votes to amass 300 points by the nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

That puts LSU-New Orleans 22 points ahead of runner-up Southwestern Louisiana, which a week ago trailed the intrastate rival by just five points. The Bulldogs, 14-2, picked up three first-place votes.

Kentucky State, 12-2, failed to earn any first-place nods but did collect 233 points, comfortably ahead of Louisiana Tech which, with a first-place vote and a 14-3 mark, got 183 points.

Fairmont State, moving up one notch over Ashland into fifth place, and No. 7 Tennessee State, captured the remaining first-place ballots.

Kentucky Wesleyan retained its hold on eighth place but Assumption stormed all the way up from 19th to ninth place and Puget Sound stepped up from 11th to 10th.

Stephen F. Austin and Eau Claire, ninth and 10th last week, lost ground with Eau Claire slipping to 11th and Stephen F. Austin nosediving to No. 13 behind Howard Payne.

Moorhead, Minn., and Old Dominion retained 14th and 15th place, North Carolina A&T moved up four places to 16th, Indiana State fell four to 17th, Oral Roberts dropped to 18th and two newcomers joined the ranks of the top 20.

Sam Houston, No. 19 and Philadelphia Textile displaced Central State, Ohio and Central Washington as select squads.

Here are the Top 20 College Division basketball teams with first place votes in parentheses and total points on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8 etc. basis:

Hurlers Top Signers in Baseball

Half a dozen pitchers made up the prize catch in baseball's signing sweepstakes Tuesday while a pair of sluggers indicated they might prove more difficult to land.

Montreal right-hander Carl Morton, the National League's Rookie of the Year last season, signed in 1971 contract. So did pitchers Tom Seaver and Jerry Koosman of the New York Mets, Jim Kaat and Luis Tiant of Minnesota and Jim McGlothlin of Cincinnati.

Meanwhile, Cincinnati's Tony Perez and Oakland's Reggie Jackson, a pair of long-ball hitters playing for Santurce in the Puerto Rican Winter League, said they are angling for pay hikes.

Morton, 27-year-old converted outfielder who posted an 18-11 record for Montreal's NL East tailenders in 1970, received a substantial raise over last year's estimated $15,000 salary.

Seaver, the 1969 NL Cy Young Award winner who slipped from 25 to 18 victories last year, accepted a slight boost in pay that put him close to the $90,000 bracket. Teammate Koosman, 12-7 in 1970 after an early-season siege of arm trouble, signed for about $60,000.

Seaver, 18-12, was the NL's ERA (2.81) and strikeout (283) king last season.

Kaat won 14 of 24 decisions for the Twins. Tiant, plagued by arm problems, was 7-3.

McGlothlin, 14-11 for the Reds, signed with the NL champs along with two rookies. Pittsburgh signed three infielders, including Dave Cash, who batted .314 as a 1970 rookie, and infielders Hal Lanier and Alan Gallagher were among four San Francisco signees.

Perez, who swatted 42 homers and delivered 122 runs for Cincinnati, said he wants $110,000 for his signature. "I expect the Reds to pay me what I have asked for," the husky third baseman said.

Jackson, who landed in Charley Finley's doghouse at Oakland last year and finished with a mediocre .237 batting average, still will ask for a pay raise. "I hit 23 home runs and batted in 70 runs, so I should get a little over the $50,000 I made last season," he said.

Frank Lane, new general manager of the Milwaukee Brewers, engineered a pair of trades, sending outfielder Carl Taylor to Kansas City for catcher Ellie Rodriguez and swapping outfielder Bob Burda to St. Louis for left-handed pitcher Fred Reahm.

AM&N Takes Over First in the AIC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas AM&N took over first place in the AIC basketball standings with an 83-71 victory over Arkansas A&M Tuesday night.

AIC scoring leader Gerald Lockett paced the Golden Lions with 37 points and 15 rebounds. The victory ran AM&N's record to 12-2 and dropped A&M to 7-7.

In other AIC action, Arkansas Tech defeated Arkansas College 89-73, Henderson rolled over College of the Ozarks 111-90, Ouachita defeated Southern State 76-60, Harding defeated State College of Arkansas 91-78 and Hendrix blasted the University of Arkansas at Little Rock 96-86.

Tech moved into second place in the AIC by defeating Arkansas College. The Wonder Boys are now 11-2 in league play.

Harding had four men in double figures in the victory over SCA.

Hawaiian Open Lures Strong Field

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
HONOLULU (AP) — The Hawaiian Open, with prize money increased to a fat $200,000, has lured one of the strongest fields of the year — possibly one of the strongest that will be assembled all season — for a professional golf tournament.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper, the only three men to win more than $1 million in prize money, head the cast for the 72-hole event that begins Thursday on the rain-soaked and weather-threatened Waialae Country Club course.

Lee Trevino, the 1970 leading money winner, also returns to action in the event he won in 1968. The talkative Trevino, out of action for three weeks because of an illness in his family, is a particular gallery favorite in Hawaii. He donated part of his 1968 purse to the family of the late Ted Makalena, a Hawaiian pro and friend of Trevino's who died in a beach accident.

Only a handful of last year's top 60 money winners is missing from the 150-man field that will be shooting for the $40,000 first prize in this tournament that is exceeded in prize money only by the Westchester Open.

The notable absentees are U.S. Open Champion Tony Jacklin of England, South African Gary Player, newly crowned U.S. seniors champion Julius Boros and Dave Hill, a $100,000 winner the last two seasons.

The weather could be a problem. It was warm and sunny for a practice round Tuesday, but the course was still soggy and spotted with pools and puddles after extensive recent rains, including two inches on Sunday. The course was closed Monday and the forecast called for the possibility of rains later in the week.

"At the moment, we're planning on playing it down," that is, playing the ball where it lies, said Jack Stirling, the PGA official in charge here.

If the forecast remains poor and the course does not drain sufficiently, the players may be allowed to clean and place the ball in the fairway.

Australian Bruce Crampton is the defending champion, and, along with Nicklaus, Palmer, Casper and Trevino, probably one of the top contenders.

TCU Edges Arkansas to Keep Lead

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
In those sticky situations, just "Give it to Goo."

And that battle cry is carrying the Texas Christian Horned Frogs farther and farther down the trail toward a Southwest Conference basketball championship.

Eugene "Goo" Kennedy, a jumping jack junior college transfer, scored the winning basket again for TCU Tuesday night as the Horned Frogs nipped Arkansas 89-87 at Fayetteville.

The typical tinger for the play it close but keep cool Horned Frogs kept them ahead of the SWC pack with a 5-0 record.

Fast-closing Texas Tech snatched sole possession of second place with a 90-76 slaughter of Baylor before 9,500 faithful in Lubbock; Gene Phillips paced Southern Methodist to an 89-83 overtime stunner over Texas A&M, and Texas crushed defending champion Rice 84-69.

After the thump-thumping died away for the night, the SQC race shaped up like this: TCU, Texas Tech, 4-1, Baylor and SMU, each 3-2, Rice and Texas each 2-3, Texas A&M 1-4, and Arkansas 0-5.

Kennedy, who hit the game-winning layup, had 29 points for the night and was backed by another junior college transfer, Simpson Degrate, who added 24.

Kennedy, a 6-foot-6 junior who gets in the air like he's 6-foot-11, has been the key man for the Horned Frogs in each of their three road victories.

TCU plays at home next, hosting Baylor Saturday night.

In Lubbock, Texas Tech continued its tremendous comeback under new head coach Gerald Myers. The Red Raiders dropped a game to TCU then have won three in a row under Myers, who replaced Bob Bass.

"Coach Myers is really running the ball club now," said senior guard Red Williams. "We are playing his game and all of us have a lot of confidence in him. After that first game (TCU), we really have settled down and started playing good ball."

Greg Lowery pumped home 24 points to pace the Red Raiders to the surprising victory over the high-scoring Bears. Tech hit 51.6 per cent from the field and outs as Frank Beard, Larry Hinson, Miller Barber, Bob Lunn, Dave Stockton and George Archer, winner of last week's Andy Williams-San Diego Open.

The final two rounds, Saturday and Sunday, will be telecast nationally via satellite in the continental United States by ABC TV.

NOT A RECORD, perhaps, but still a lot of fish. This 445-pound grouper was landed in New Zealand waters by a vacationing college student, Jim Burke of Chicago, Ill.

Soviet Pair Favored to Keep Title

ZURICH (AP) — Reigning champions look set to keep their crowns as the European Figure Skating Championships reach final stages today.

World champions Irina Rodnina and Alexei Ulanov of the Soviet Union were strong favorites in the pairs event after a brilliant display in the compulsory program Tuesday night when they collected 104.9 points.

In the men's event, 20-year-old Ondrej Nepela of Czechoslovakia has a commanding lead.

held William Chatmon, Baylor's prolific pivot man, to 14 markers.

"We have good momentum now and I hope we can carry it down to Rice in Hopston Saturday," said Myers. "Red did a good job against the Baylor press."

Texas shot a blistering 65 per cent from the field in the second half to daze Rice. The Longhorns had six players in double figures. B. G. Brosterhouse was high with 17 for the Burnt Orange. He also had 10 rebounds as Texas deftly feathered the birds 48-34 on the boards.

Steve Emshoff led Rice with 18 points and guards Tom Myer and Gary Reist added 16 and 15, respectively.

Rice hasn't won in Gregory Gym since 1957.

Gene Phillips hit 19 of 19 from the free throw line and 12 of 22 field goal attempts for 43 points in the victory over the Aggies. It was a G. Rollie White Coliseum record and an all-time individual high against A&M.

SMU overcame a six point deficit in the last 2:33 of regulation time to gain a 75-75 deadlock and the overtime.

Phillips said after the game, "It was my greatest thrill."

The Redskin Runners Are Singing Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — They call themselves the Redskins Runner. Outta sight!

All-pro Larry Brown, Charley Harraway and Henry Dyer, three running backs for the Washington Redskins, have made their professional debut as a singing group. There only previous experience was part of a Christmas album put out by the Redskins.

As athlete-singers showmen, they're not bad. In fact, when they do upbeat tunes, they're quite good.

During their first 30 minutes as professional singers at a chic cocktail lounge Black Circus, the professional football players performed like they were still in training camp.

Midway through their second act, however, they moved like it was midseason and they were on their way to the Super Bowl.

The only real drag is the half-time show. Members of the audience are asked to submit questions—most of which are just plain silly.

The running backs try clever answers. Most times they fail.

For the Redskins, Brown gained more than 1,000 yards and was the leading rusher in the National Football League;

Harraway led him through the holes as his blocker, and Dyer was his substitute.

In their nightclub act, they share equal billing.

Each sings solo, backed by the others, going through such numbers as "Dock of the Bay," "Push it, Pull it," "Y'all Do it," "It's All in the Game," "My Girl," "Somebody's Sleeping in My Bed," and "Born to Wander."

Dyer appears to have the best singing voice and Harraway, shaved head and all, the best stage presence. Even when a heckler began riding him during one of his slow numbers, which was bad, Harraway kept his cool.

But when the encores are called for, it's Brown doing "My Girl" the audience wants.

Rod Laver Going for Clean Sweep

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Australia's Rod Laver will try to make a clean sweep of the field and win his eighth straight $10,000 tennis match tonight when he faces Roger Taylor of England at the Forum.

Laver, 33, has pocketed $70,000 with his triumphs in the winner-take-all series that began Jan. 2. Taylor, who upset the Australian left-hander last year at Wimbledon, is the only man he has not faced.

Another winner-take-all match, worth $5,000, will pit Dennis Ralston of the United States and Tony Roche of Australia. The winners will meet in another $10,000 duel.

If he stretches his winning skein through 14 of the five-set matches, Laver could pocket $170,000. The championship match is scheduled for Feb. 19 in Philadelphia. Laver won the tournament last year.

Montreal Outscores Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Officially the score read: Montreal 5, Vancouver 2, but stragglers among the 15,569 fans at Tuesday night's only National Hockey League game could well have thought it was a 3-2 victory for the visitors.

With the game only 36 seconds old, Jean Beliveau hit the corner of the Vancouver net with a 10-footer for his first goal of the game. Then, with the second period only 31 seconds along he got the puck to Marc Tardif who scored to give the Canadiens a 3-0 lead.

It took a little longer in the third period when 7½ minutes had ticked off before Beliveau slammed home his 15th goal of the season.

John Ferguson, coming around slowly after a brief retirement, also scored a pair of goals for the Canadiens.

After Tardif's quickie in the second period, the Canucks pulled themselves together to score twice and cut the Montreal lead to 3-2. Murray Hall banged in a rebound with just over seven minutes left in the period, and Andre Boudrias connected on the power play three minutes later.

In games tonight, Chicago is at New York, Detroit plays at Minnesota, Pittsburgh entertains Oakland and Toronto hosts St. Louis.

Issel Proves Statistics Are Correct

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American Basketball Association statistics came out Monday and Dan Issel wasted little time Tuesday night proving they were correct.

Issel, who leads John Brisker and Mack Calvin in the tight scoring race, pumped in 40 points to take the Kentucky Colonels to a 122-116 victory over the Texas Chaparrals.

Earlier in the evening in a doubleheader at Pittsburgh, Calvin scored 31 points as the Floridians stopped the Carolina Cougars 110-102 in the opener, and then Brisker led Pittsburgh to a 119-110 triumph over the New York Nets with 35 points.

In the only other game, the Virginia Squires remained seven games ahead of Kentucky in the Eastern Division with a 114-111 decision over the Memphis Pros.

In the National Basketball Association, the New York Knicks beat Cincinnati 115-108, Philadelphia edged Boston 108-105, Detroit nipped Baltimore 116-113, Chicago crushed Seattle 118-101, Cleveland stunned Buffalo again 101-91, Portland jolted Milwaukee 123-111, Los Angeles whipped San Diego 133-105 and San Francisco shaded Atlanta 101-99.

Kentucky led only 106-105 with five minutes left before Issel, who scored 13 points in the final quarter, led the Colonels out of danger. Don Freeman paced Texas with 24 points.

Calvin and Larry Jones, who scored 33 points, shot the Floridians into an 18-point lead before the Cougars rallied to within 102-97 with two minutes left despite the absence of injured Joe Caldwell. George Lehmann had 28 points for Carolina.

Pittsburgh trailed most of its game and was behind 68-59 at the half. But the Condors overtook the Nets 101-100 4½ minutes into the final quarter and the Nets never caught up. Rick Barry had 21 points for New York.

Virginia also rallied in the fi-

Porkers Drop Another One by Two Points

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Texas Christian University held on to the lead in the Southwest Conference basketball race with a come-from-behind 89-87 victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks here Tuesday night.

The Frogs captured their third straight road victory. They are 9-8 for the year, while Arkansas is 0-5 in the SWC and 4-13 for the season.

Eugene Kennedy scored 29 points, while Simpson DeGrate added 24 points for TCU.

Almer Lee led Arkansas with 22 points while Donnie Watts added 20. It was the third straight conference game in which Watts has scored 20 or more points.

Arkansas led 44-42 at the half, but TCU took the lead for good with 1:41 left when Jim Ferguson hit a 5-foot jumper for an 84-83 lead.

Blazers Upset Bucks Behind Adelman

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a big night for Rick Adelman and the Portland Trail Blazers in the National Basketball Association. They upset the Milwaukee Bucks 123-111.

Adelman made three steals in the closing minutes to set up the Tuesday night heroics at Portland. At the end, the crowd of 9,040 gave the Trail Blazers a standing ovation for their first victory of the season over the Bucks.

In other NBA action, the New York Knicks turned back Cincinnati 115-108, Philadelphia nipped Boston 108-105, Detroit shaded Baltimore 116-113, Chicago pounded Seattle 118-101, San Francisco edged Atlanta 101-99, Los Angeles crushed San Diego 133-105 and Cleveland humbled Buffalo for the sixth straight time 101-91.

In the American Basketball Association, the Floridians whipped Carolina 110-102, Pittsburgh tripped the New York Nets 119-111, Virginia nipped Memphis 114-111 and Kentucky clipped Texas 122-116.

Portland squandered a 65-48 halftime lead but bounced back to win on Adelman's steals in the last four minutes.

Jim Barnett paced the Trail Blazers with 27 points. Lew Alcindor was high for Milwaukee with 38 points, but finished with only nine rebounds. He was double-teamed most of the game by LeRoy Ellis and Dale Schluter.

John Warren and John Johnson shared the spotlight for usually hapless Cleveland, which has managed a mere four victories in 49 games against the rest of the league.

Warren hit 16 of his 22 points in the first half as the Cavaliers opened a 57-42 lead over Buffalo, the game played before a meager turnout of 1,373 in Rochester, N.Y.

Johnson took over in the second half with 15 of his 21 plus a couple of crucial assists. Don May led Buffalo with 34.

Veteran center Willis Reed of New York and rookie pivotman Sam Lacey of Cincinnati played to a standoff—each hitting 27 points to lead their clubs—but Reed's eight quick points midway in the final period enabled the Knicks to break away from the Royals for the victory, their seventh in eight starts.

Boston led 75-71 late in the third period before Philadelphia went on a tear, outscoring the Celtics 20-2 for a commanding 14-point lead, then held on for the victory. Dave Cowens hit 22 for the Celts while Billy Cunningham scored 31 for the 76ers, who opened a four-game lead over Boston and remained within 5½ of first-place New York in the Atlantic Division.

Dave Bing with 29 points and Otto Moore with 21 led a late Detroit rush that snapped a 100-100 tie and kept the Pistons ahead of Baltimore. Earl Monroe of the Bullets took scoring honors with 30 in the seasaw game.

Chicago stayed 2½ games back of second-place Detroit in the Midwest Division on the strength of 27 points apiece by Bob Love and Chet Walker. Slumping Seattle, out of contention by halftime, was led by Dick Snyder with 24.

Jeff Mullins' short jumper with 20 seconds left enabled San Francisco to edge Atlanta. The Warriors overcame a 10-point deficit early in the fourth quarter.

Pete Maravich had a chance to tie the game for the Hawks with four seconds remaining. But his jump shot hit the rim and bounced away as time ran out.

Jerry West scored 28 points as Los Angeles handed San Diego its 15th setback in 16 games. Elvin Hayes led the Rockets with 27 points.

Voters Drive Pressed Across South

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — More than 100 groups still labor quietly in voter registration drives across the South—trying to reach an estimated 1.6 million blacks who remain unregistered despite the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

"Substantial progress has been made but there is much left to be done," said John Lewis, director of the nonpartisan Voter Education Project, Inc., one of the largest groups active in voter registration work.

"You don't hear as much about voter registration now that the era of the big protest march is gone," he said. "But the job of registering blacks still involves hundreds of people. And there's still resistance to our work but of a more subtle shading."

The project's annual report says more than two million blacks have been registered in the 11 Southern states since passage of the Voting Rights Act. The report said 3.36 million blacks are on the books, out of 5 million voting-age Negroes.

The white registration is about 17 million out of 20 million in the voting-age group, the report said.

"As the report indicates," Lewis said in an interview, "the pool of unregistered black voters represents a great deal of as yet unexercised political muscle in the South. I would not be at all surprised to see the first black congressmen come from the region during the next five to 10 years."

The report, compiled from census tables and tabulations of county registration figures, said Texas has the highest percentage of registered Negro voters, 54.7. The lowest percentage, 55.4, is in North Carolina.

The percentages nationwide are 84.5 per cent for whites and 66.9 per cent for blacks.

"People working in this area today don't find the violence that threatened us until late 1966," said Lewis, 31. "There has been a realization that that sort of thing is not effective."

He said the project's survey showed some county registrars had turned to other means of blocking registration.

"In one county the registrar opens the books only at the courthouse. They used to register voters at various points in the county. Some people must now make an 80-mile round trip if they wish to register."

The project's report said the increased black registration has produced dividends. More than 110 black candidates were elected to public office, ranging from legislatures to school boards, in the 1970 elections.

They brought to 665 the number of black elected officials in the South.

chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he can't understand why Rogers failed to tell the panel last week about plans for the operation which some foreign newsmen say already is under way.

Fulbright said the secrecy-covered operation reminds him of last April when Rogers testified before the committee two days before the start of the U.S. incursion into Cambodia.

"He didn't mention that either," Fulbright said after the committee voted to summon Rogers and Laird as soon as possible for testimony about the operation—in open session if possible.

Rumors of some massive allied assault into the Laotian panhandle, designed to destroy Communist supply lines leading into South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia from the north, have been building since last Friday.

U.S. officials, here and in Saigon, have refused to discuss the rumors. However, Laird conceded publicly Tuesday that an embargo has been imposed on news stories relating to such an offensive.

Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said the State Department told him last Friday U.S. and South Vietnamese troops are massed near the Laotian border "for a large operation we might be undertaking The administration has given us to understand they're preparing for a massive attack from the north."

Meanwhile, a Hanoi broadcast said the pro-Communist Pathet Lao sent an urgent message to Great Britain and the Soviet Union, cochairmen of the 1962 Geneva Convention on Laos, denouncing "new U.S. adventures" in Laos.

The message referred to an intrusion into Laos of Thai troops and of a U.S.-South Vietnamese buildup poised "to enter and attack Laos."

In Saigon a South Vietnamese spokesman said he could neither confirm nor deny reports that Saigon forces had entered Laos.

The Foreign Relations Committee voted to hold new public hearings on U.S. involvement in Indochina, including Nixon administration plans for ending the war.

The hearings would cover such alternative proposals as the Hatfield-McGovern amendment to cut off funds for U.S. forces in Southeast Asia at the end of the year.

Progress Signs in Middle East Talks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Secretary-General U Thant says the Middle East peace talks at the United Nations are showing some signs of progress and the cease-fire should be extended, but Egyptian government officials appeared cool to the suggestion today.

The Cairo government withheld its official reaction, presumably waiting for President Anwar Sadat's speech to the National Assembly Thursday, the day before the six-month-old truce is to expire.

But a government spokesman, Munir Hafez, said: "It is clear from U Thant's statement that he had nothing new on the progress of the talks." Egypt repeatedly has said it will accept no extension unless there is significant headway in discussions mediator Gunnar V. Jarring is holding with representatives of Israel, Jordan and Egypt.

Thant reported to the Security Council Tuesday that the talks are young, and issues still must be clarified. But he said he found "grounds for cautious optimism" because serious discussions were under way and "there has been some progress in the definition of their positions."

He appealed "in this very difficult and crucial stage of the discussions, to withhold fire, to exercise military restraint and to maintain the quiet which has prevailed in the area since August 1970."

Mohammed H. El-Zayyat, Egypt's chief U.N. delegate, said he would forward the appeal to Cairo. He said, however, "It is hard to see, as of now, any reasons for optimism."

Despite the official coolness to extension of the cease-fire, many observers in the Middle East feel that the truce will con-time on an unofficial day-to-day basis.

The Israelis have repeatedly pledged not to fire first, and the Foreign Ministry in Jerusalem declared Tuesday it is willing to go along with Thant's appeal on the cease-fire if Egypt reciprocates.

But sources in Jerusalem said the Israeli government viewed accusations made public by Egypt Tuesday as a deliberate attempt to sabotage the peace talks. A memorandum handed to Jarring on Monday declared that Israel is refusing to comply with provisions of the Security Council resolution of Nov. 22, 1967 by its failure to withdraw from territory it captured in the 1967 war.

Vietnamese Silent About Laos Report

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A spokesman for the South Vietnamese Defense Ministry said today that he could not confirm or deny reports that the Saigon government had sent troops into southern Laos to attack North Vietnamese troops and supplies on the Ho Chi Minh trail.

"As far as I know," Lt. Col. Nguyen Tuyen said in Saigon, "there are no South Vietnamese troops in Laos. Up to now I have no information about that. I cannot confirm or deny it."

Earlier today, the chief spokesman for the South Vietnamese military command, Lt. Col. Tran Van An, said he had "no comment" on the reports, which have been circulating for several days in various capitals.

In Washington, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee pressed the State and Defense departments for information about the rumored operations in Laos, President Nixon met with key advisers, and the administration would say only that no U.S. troops had crossed into Laos and none would.

83 Entries in Daytona 500 Classic

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The entry list for the Daytona 500 stock car race stood at 83 Tuesday, and included among the late-comers was the 1969 winner of this $200,000 classic, Cale Yarborough.

The 31-year-old Yarborough, a South Carolina farm boy who made a fortune driving for the Ford factory team, had quit NASCAR earlier this year to drive on the USAC championship trail.

But Tuesday he was named to pilot a 1971 Plymouth entered by ace mechanic Ray Fox and owned by Gene White, a wealthy Atlanta tire distributor. White also owns the USAC team that will feature Lloyd Ruby and Yarborough as drivers.

The Fox car originally was picked for Fred Lorenzen, a former star who signed during the weekend to drive another Plymouth entered by STP president Andy Granatelli.

Fox picked up White as a backer and found Yarborough available as an FIA licensed driver for this richest and most prestigious of all stock car events.

White, who holds Firestone's racing tire concession for the Southeast, used Yarborough's entry to announce that Firestone is returning to stock car racing this year.

The Akron maker had dropped off the circuit last year, saying it would no longer give financial subsidy to drivers to assure use of its tires. Firestone's pullout left only Goodrich as a supplier of the big tires used on Grand National cars.

meeting, speaking on Urban Renewal, a subject with which he is quite familiar, since he is the head of the Housing Authority and Urban Renewal for Hope.

As in most programs of this kind progress has been slow, months and months of study having gone into the Hope project. However, it looks now as if the program might become a reality in the not too distant future.

By direction the first project must include the downtown section as well as meet other criteria, and Mr. Kelly with the assistance of Guy Grigg, his associate in the Housing Authority, displayed maps showing the area to be covered. He also outlined some of the projected improvements such as drainage, sewage disposal, lighting, street improvement, and other related items.

Mr. Kelly said that as soon as approval was granted on the proposed projects, public hearings would be held in order that all interested citizens might express themselves.

Hubert Thrash, Chairman of the Housing Authority was the only guest at Tuesday's meeting.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The University of Akron will quit using freshmen on its football and basketball teams beginning September, 1971, the school has announced.

Dean William Petry, chairman of the Athletic Committee, said the move, after 19 years of using freshmen, was being made in an effort to enter the NCAA University Division class.

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — A defensive back and wide receiver from the University of Northern Colorado here and a flanker from Western State at Gunnison have signed contracts as free agents with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, officials of the two schools said Tuesday.

Broadcasters Oppose Limit in Spending

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers urged support of his bill to limit campaign expenditures during a speech before the Arkansas Broadcasters Association here Monday.

Ted Snider, vice president of KARK, Little Rock, spoke briefly against the bill before Bumpers was introduced.

"We oppose it because we feel it is unnecessary," Snider said.

"The free enterprise system 'akes care of that sort of thing.' Snider said the bill would prohibit a citizen, in some cases, from supporting the candidate of his choosing.

Bumpers, when he got the microphone, did not back away a single step. "I feel some bills limiting campaign expenditures is an absolute must," he said.

The broadcasters got about 10 minutes to question Bumpers after his speech and the tone of the questioning indicated that the radio and television industry would rather see no bill at all, but that broadcasters are unalterably opposed to a provision which would keep a candidate from spending more than half of his total outlay for broadcasting.

On other topics, Bumpers said that he feels legislation to permit spending of some high-way revenues for turnpikes should be approved, and that the state must look toward establishing industries in the prisons if meaningful prison reform is to be effected.

Crucified Thieves
The names of the two thieves crucified with Christ are not given in the Scriptures, but there is a tradition that the one who was penitent on the cross was named Dismas and the other was named Gestas.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Weather reports in the United States were initiated after severe storms sank ships on the Great Lakes and off the Atlantic Coast during the 1860s. The World Almanac recalls that on Feb. 9, 1870, Congress directed the secretary of war to start a weather observation system at military stations to give warning of the approach of storms.

Everything Hildegarde Does Has a Touch of Elegance About It

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Elegance is the favorite word of Hildegarde, and everything she does has a touch of it.

She showed it this week when she cheerfully told a cheering audience at the Rainbow Grill a thing most women hate to admit publicly—that she had reached her 65th birthday. And amid a flourish of red roses and the waving of one of her celebrated handkerchiefs, she smilingly cut up a huge birthday cake inscribed, "Over 60—So What?"

Shortly before her performance, Hildy, who for a generation has been known as "the incomparable" and "The First Lady of Supper Clubs," told how it felt to reach the landmark year so many dread.

"I used to hide my age and say I was 56," she said. "Now I have simply reversed the figure. The number is a large one, but I still feel like 35."

"It's a little scary to be approaching the twilight of life, but I just don't give it a thought. People make too much ado about age."

"I'd rather be getting older and still feeling well with every passing day than be a beautiful 25-year-old corpse."

"There is no reason to feel guilty or ashamed of getting older. It's a thing to be proud and thankful for."

Still youthful-faced and youthful-minded, the lovely chanteuse started her career 46 years ago in vaudeville as one of a four-girl piano team.

"I am very religious," she remarked. "I promised God that if He let me succeed in music, I'd do my best to be an example and inspiration to others—and to help cheer them. I feel I have kept that vow, and that it is God who has kept me dedicated and

Chrysler Workers Return

DETROIT (AP) — Some 10,000 white collar workers are back on the job at Chrysler Corp. today after striking for three hours Tuesday.

The strike ended when Chrysler and the United Auto Workers union reached tentative agreement on a three-year contract covering salaried employees represented by the union.

Chrysler officials refused to discuss any aspect of the settlement, but UAW President Leonard Woodcock said it generally followed the pattern set earlier by General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. The union does not represent salaried workers at Ford and GM, but the companies gave their white collar workers raises in line with contracts agreed to for production and maintenance workers.

Ford and GM salaried workers received weekly pay hikes of 13 per cent of their base salaries or $19.60, whichever was greater.

Woodcock indicated that any increase at Chrysler in excess of $10.40 weekly would be retroactive to Nov. 2, 1970, with the rest paid back to Sept. 15.

The annual salaries range from $10,000 to $30,000.

happy." The slightly plump little girl from Wisconsin had a hard time—she once sang for as little as $1 in Paris, later reached the $20,000-a-week bracket—before she became a symbol of svelt feminine sophistication and a star on three continents.

She has thrice been named one of the world's best dressed women, sung for kings and presidents, yet she still retains, in Kipling's phrase, "the common touch." audiences who were still unborn when she first sang her signature song, "Darling, Je Vous Aime Beaucoup," still make her sing it at every performance. She can do it in nine languages.

Hildy, active in a long roster of philanthropic causes, has a good business head and has no intention of ever winding up in a home for aged performers.

Many Escape Effects of Marijuana

By FRANK CAREY

AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — New federal research indicates most young people will not experience dangerous effects from short-term experimenting with marijuana, but lack of evidence makes it impossible to give the drug a clean bill of health.

"The health picture with respect to marijuana must at present be regarded as fragmentary and clearly incomplete," the National Institute of Mental Health said Monday in its first detailed report to Congress on results of a $3-million-a-year study of pot.

"Many of the most important questions regarding the implications of long-term, chronic use will require significant periods of time to answer," the report stated.

The 176-page report, drew

these conclusions:

—Consequences of marijuana use "can range from no effects to a psychotic experience, and cannot be predicted for any individual."

—There is no evidence linking marijuana with cancer or birth defects.

—Additional research is needed "before we can ascertain how much of a threat marijuana would pose to the general populace if it were commonly used."

The report reached virtually the same conclusions as preliminary findings issued last September.

Dr. Bertram S. Brown, director of the National Institute of Mental Health, told a news conference:

"The bulk of healthy young people, with short-term use of the drug, will have no deleterious effects—although a few of them will have such effects ... (and) ... in high enough doses, a psychotic episode can occur in everybody ..."

"And, even if it is eventually established that moderate use is not injurious to physical health,

Indians Stone Pakistan Buildings

By MYRON L. BELKIND

Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI (AP) — Several hundred Indians stoned the Pakistan High Commission building today in protest against the destruction of an Indian airliner by Kashmiri hijackers in West Pakistan.

In Jammu, the winter capital of Kashmir State, a protest closed all shops and schools.

A Pakistani spokesman said several members of the High a nagging question would remain:

"Do we want to encourage the use of a mind-altering drug which, for so many, is an escape from reality and a retreat into passive enjoyment?"

Brown defined a high dose as "daily smoking or ingesting" of the drug, but he offered no figures. He defined moderate use as two or three times a week.

Commission staff were hurt but none seriously. Police drove the demonstrators away with tear gas.

India banned flights by Pakistani military planes over its territory in retaliation for the destruction of the airliner.

Pakistan's Foreign Office deplored the firing of the $1.14 million aircraft at Lahore airport Tuesday night as it was negotiating for its release and return to India.

India claimed Pakistan's military government could have prevented the destruction of the Fokker Friendship F27, which two young Kashmiris diverted to Lahore Saturday from a domestic flight over Kashmir. The other 26 passengers and four crew members returned to India by road Monday.

The incident triggered a new crisis in relations between India and Pakistan, which have fought two wars over Kashmir. The ban on Pakistani military flights further isolates the two parts of Pakistan, separated by 1,000 miles of Indian territory, but apparently civilian aircraft were not affected.

The hijackers, who occupied the plane until they destroyed it with incendiary devices, had said they would blow it up if the Indian government did not release 36 imprisoned Kashmiri "freedom fighters."

Maqbool Ahmed Butt, black-bereted leader of the Kashmiri Liberation Front, said the hijackers "had no alternative" because the Pakistanis planned to remove them from the plane Monday night.

Butt, who flew to Lahore over the weekend to advise the hijackers, identified them as Ashraf Qureshi, 21, and Mohammed Hashem, 20. He said they jumped from the plane after the flames took hold.

Both were under guard in a military hospital in Lahore. Qureshi was seriously injured in the blast and was being given oxygen, Butt said. He said the other youth suffered minor injuries.
